

LYNNE JENSEN-NELSON

INFORMATION • MOTIVATION • INSPIRATION

Lynne Jensen-Nelson is an engaging, results oriented motivational speaker who knows how to captivate an audience. She parlayed her educational background and master's degree in Communication into a 20+ year career in successful team development focused primarily on sales and customer management. She credits her mastery of effective communication strategies for her meteoric rise through the ranks of sales management and executive leadership.

As the founder of Conversion-omics© Speakers & Consultants, Lynne inspires organizations, large and small, to refine their sales approach, define their ability to differentiate, and enhance customer experience. Her speaking style is exceptionally enthusiastic, invigorating, and fun. Lynne engages participants in topics personalized to the audience and the industry. Event attendees leave with immediately applicable skills, strategies, and techniques. Event planners/organizers know they have a partner dedicated to the event's success.