

Hello, friend.

I'm Jack.

The Don't Flinch Guy.

I get it. Speakers cross your desk all the time. Here are five reasons why I'm different.

A surprise-and-delight speaker.

My presentations are built around my experiences in Hollywood as an actor, producer, director and – of course – a waiter. By spinning yarns of my Tinseltown flops and bizarre celebrity encounters, your attendees get the entertainment they want, while I deliver the sneak attack of providing the workplace lessons they just might need.

01

Three low-fat, delicious topics.

02

The Intangible It

Bottle the "it" factor of a movie star to become an A-lister in your profession.

Vantage Point

Shift perspective to see your job and organization in a whole new way.

The Upside

In a world with so much downside, you can always find a way to ... up yours.

Or combine all three for the Don't Flinch Half-Day Buffet.

Live is nice, but in a virtual world pants are optional.

With a background in video production, I can help you in a virtual world. We can split my keynote into shorter TED-esque presentations or I can be your event host, working with your team to create content that is fun, fresh and relevant.

03

An Amazon Meh-Selling Author.

I have been a business and pop-culture contributor to HuffPost, so I did something that no speaker has ever done before: I wrote a book!

Well, I sorta wrote a book. I co-wrote it. So I guess technically I half wrote a book. I'll send you one. Don't worry, it has a lot of pictures in it.

04

They like me.
They really like me!

Here are some kind words from very nice, unbribed people.

05

"Jack's message was perfect!"
Richard Davis
Former US Bank CEO

"I knew he was a really big hit when I saw one of our - let's say choosier members - come up to Jack afterwards to say, 'I was ready to not like you but you were great.' If he can crack that facade, he can deliver for anyone!"
Mia Urick
MASA

"As an event planner, I cannot emphasize enough how much easier he will make your virtual event. With Jack you get more than a speaker - you get a true event partner."
Ashleigh Esselman
MEA Energy

"The response to Jack was so good, that we have had him back a few more times!"
Cami Jo Sonnenburg
United Bankers Bank

"Jack is so friggin' cute. I just want to pinch those rosy cheeks!"
Jack's Mom

Hey, let's chat!

Well, this has been fun. What else can I tell you about myself?
Let's see, I assistant directed a Margaret Cho stand-up special, I played a wimpy park ranger on the CBS drama Cold Case and I appeared briefly (very briefly) on Days of Our Lives.
But alas, being fun on paper doesn't help you with your event, so why don't we set up a call? I'm buying.

All good things,
Jack Stahlmann
